§2 Collection and use of your data

To carry out the project, we ask you for your name, your e-mail address and your location. We need this data in order to be able to carry out the project, in particular to check your eligibility and to inform you in the event of a nomination. The legal basis is Art. 6 Para. 1 S. 1 lit. b) GDPR.

We will only use the aforementioned data for advertising purposes if you have provided your consent. The legal basis is Art. 6 para. 1 sentence 1 lit. a) GDPR.

The information provided by you can also be passed on to companies affiliated with us or processors based in Germany, who process data for us as a service provider (e.g. agencies for the implementation of the project).

§3 Deletion of your data

We delete or anonymize your personal data as soon as it is no longer required for the purposes for which we collected or used it in accordance with the preceding paragraphs. We generally delete the data of participants who are no longer engaged with the project within 90 days of the end of the project, i.e. after the Munich Flagship Conference on 7 and 8 December 2020.

§4 Automated individual decisions or measures for profiling

We do not use automated processing to make a decision - including profiling.

§5 Your rights as a data subject

As a person affected by the processing of personal data, you have a right to information about the processed data, a right to have your personal data corrected, a right to have your personal data deleted, a right to restrict the processing of your personal data and a right to the portability of your personal data. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority.

In addition, in cases where data processing is based on Art. 6 Para. 1 lit. e or lit. f GDPR, or for the purpose of direct advertising, you have the right to object to processing.

§6 Transfer to third countries

The transfer of personal data to non-EU / EEA countries (the so-called third country) does not take place.

4. I can reach the TFP data protection officer at: call@futures-project.org.

Internet disclaimer

I am aware that information on the Internet is accessible worldwide, can be found via search engines and linked to other information that can lead to the creation of personality profiles about me (e.g. Clearview). I am aware that information published on the Internet, including photos, can be easily copied and distributed. I am also aware that there are special archiving services (e.g. waybackmachine on archive.org) that permanently document the condition of certain websites. For this reason, information published on the Internet can still be found after deletion.

Social media disclaimer

With regard to social media publications, I am aware of the following:

Social networks “multiply” content without TFP having any influence on the number of distributions. By commenting and then sharing TFP’s original publication, the possibility exists that the individuals depicted may receive unfavorable comments.

When publishing in certain social media platforms (e.g. Facebook), the complete deletion of photos may not be possible. I acknowledge that the deletion of the images from the TFP website can take up to three working days after receiving my request for deletion.

Print publications

If I withdraw of consent TFP will no longer publish my photo in new editions of the products that have already been printed and my withdrawal will not impact photos that have already been published in older editions.

Summary: I agree that my images and videos will be published in the media mentioned above. My consent is valid from the date of signing in and registering.

Terms and Conditions for the Project “Global Open Call to Action for Innovators for the Future”

1. Confidentiality obligation

We will only forward the data you provide to our partners for the purpose of supporting the project as well as press and public relations work of the “Global Open Call to Action for Innovators for the Future” initiative (hereinafter “the Initiative”). The project partners have been bound by us to confidentiality, and the project partners, as well as ourselves, are not permitted to use personal data for purposes other than the support and implementation of the Initiative without your further separate consent.

2. Expulsion right

In the event that legal action is or will be taken against you or a representative of your idea/your project in connection with the idea or innovation submitted to the Initiative or that proceedings are or will be pending, in particular if the legal ownership of the idea is legally challenged by third parties, we reserve the right to expel you from participation and subsequent publications at any time. We also reserve the right to expel you from participation and subsequent publications at any time if it becomes clear that you or a representative of your project are not committed to free democratic values and/or lack respect and tolerance for your fellow human beings to such an extent, or if you or a representative of your project otherwise behave in such a way that the initiative "Call for Innovators" and/or subsequent events are at risk of suffering damage.

3. Transfer of rights of use

Furthermore, you transfer to The Futures Project gUG for your institution/association/project the rights of use, unlimited in terms of time, space and media, all photographs or other images and films provided by you for the project, so that "The Futures Project" can use them for communication about the initiative "Innovators for the Future" in all media forms, online or offline. You confirm that the persons depicted in the photographs or images have given their explicit consent to such use.

The persons depicted in the photos can revoke their consent for use of their own photo or image at any time. In case of a revocation we will immediately remove the photos and the associated name(s) from our website. If we have used materials belonging to you from other media such as videos or print products, we will continue to use this material. Should there be a new edition of these media, we will of course then use material that does not show you and remove your name from it.

You have the right to request information from us about the data we have stored about you. Please send all requests for information, deletion, rectification, portability, restriction, or objection to data processing by e-mail to call@futures-project.org.

4. Additional Provisions

Participation in the Global Open Call does not constitute any guarantee of selection. The application and selection process is entirely at the discretion of The Futures Project. The Futures Project may determine in its sole discretion, at any time to close the selection process without making any award(s). The Futures Project reserves the right to stop all activity for the Call and/or to make substantive changes to the Call and selection procedure, which might preclude certain users from participating further.
